13	Event Summary: The shared valuable insights in the area research methodology. Participants asked many questions. The speaker has divided the research methodology into quantitative and qualitative research. He discussed these things by considering the traditional approach. He talked that; it uses precise numerical measurements. Its goal is frequently to find universal laws used to make predictions about future events. The dominant methodology in the natural sciences is called the scientific method. It comprises steps like observation and the formulation of a hypothesis. Further steps are to test the suppositions using an experiment, to compare the measurements to the expected results, and to publish the findings.
